

The Time of Universal Inventions has come.

To enter a new phase, we need new tools and new ways of using these instruments.

What will be the new Universal Inventions?
Who will create them?

Primordial objectives

To make available to all, as soon and as well as possible, all new inventions to come.
To allow a fair and fruitful remuneration to the real discoverers and inventors.
Others are available on this page.

The principles

All the knowledge, methods, processes that will contribute to the improvement of Human Life and the good use of the Planet’s resources will be put in common in the Universal database of new inventions.

The Charter

About ALPHAPOLIS

The collective force of the Commons at the service of everyone

The old forms of social and economic organization do not respond to the critical challenges at hand, nor to the most essential aspirations of humanity. It is therefore necessary that these evolve in new configurations for our context. But based on values that allow us all to express our talents and abilities to the fullest.

The Commons puts people first.

Learn more about the virtues of the Commons

The New Commons

Whether they are natural, digital, economic, social or cultural, they represent the new economic evolutions that will, and must, be put in place.

Natural Commons

Basically, the mineral and energy resources belong to the inhabitants of the Earth Communities.

Digital is the new lever

Thanks to its capacities, digital technology allows more than ever the emergence and the functioning of the Commons. But we must not forget to free it by regulating it.

A new form of Economic Democracy

If we believe that the choice of democracy is the best form for the political management of the city, why shouldn’t it be the same for the economy?
The Commons allow everyone to become an actor in their social activities.

THE UNIVERSAL
INVENTIONS
A Civilizational Singularity
Philippe AGRIPNIDIS

Available in digital and paper versions

Discover the book “The Universal Inventions” and its flagship proposal of sharing an invention to Humanity as soon as it exists.

And, surprisingly, allow more reward to the real discovers.

The commons bring the Dark stores to their best.

It is necessary to respond with the best of this societal aspiration which has potentially good aspects.

How to put an end to the dark sides of this trend by using the Commons for the betterment of the actors of this form of new catering, for their customers and for the community?

- MISSION

Welcome to ALPHAPOLIS !
The AGORA for the design and promotion of new COMMONS!

The level of a Civilization is measured by its COMMON and PUBLIC Goods. So let’s all improve this level together!

ALPHAPOLIS is itself a new Common Good in deployment.

You will find information for:
– Know what COMMON GOODS are
– Understand what the new COMMON GOODS are
– Develop, build and implement new COMMON GOODS

And above all you will discover why our civilization needs new COMMONS more than ever.

Our goal?

Encourage and participate in the creation of new COMMON GOODS for a new Civilization!
We all know that this is a time for sustainability and ecology.
But it is also the hour of a greater control in the use of the resources of our Planet and in the forms and types of Production. And the time has come to share the results of this production fairly. As well as prosperity for all.
The new COMMONS, their use and dissemination, are the keys to a flourishing civilization. We need it now and everywhere on the planet.
ALPHAPOLIS intends to be an active player in the deployment of new Common Goods.
And we will prove it over time.

Through the community gathered in ALPHAPOLIS, our mission is to :
– Promote,
– Explain
– Present
– Invent
– Imagine
– Spread
– Suggest,

the new COMMONS in the whole world.
And this whatever the type and form of Common Good, whether Natural, Economic, Social, Cultural, or Digital.
